

I support net neutrality. Blocking the free and open flow of information will impact our ability to compete with other developed economies.